HISTORY OF THE FRANCHISE

WE ARE

The Calgary Flames will mark their 30th NHL season and 31st year in Calgary during the 2010-11 campaign.

Since their arrival in 1980, the team has captivated hockey fans with their on-ice success, including a Stanley Cup victory in 1989, while establishing a solid off-ice reputation for community involvement through millions of dollars of contributions to charitable organizations throughout southern Alberta.

On May 21, 1980, Nelson Skalbania and a group of Calgary entrepreneurs consisting of Doc and B.J. Seaman, Harley Hotchkiss, Norm Green, Ralph Scurfield and Norman Kwong announced the acquisition of the Atlanta Flames franchise and declared their intention to relocate the team to Alberta.

In August 1981, Skalbania sold his interest in the team to the Calgary contingent. The remaining six local businessmen continued to hold exclusive ownership until June 15, 1990, when Norm Green left to become owner of the Minnesota North Stars (now Dallas Stars). On August 8, 1994, further revisions to the club ownership structure saw the addition of six new investors and the departure of two of the team's original owners (Norman Kwong and Sonia Scurfield).

Subsequent changes in 2001 resulted in the current group of seven owners: N. Murray Edwards, Harley N. Hotchkiss, Alvin G. Libin, Allan P. Markin, Jeffrey J. McCaig, Clayton B. Riddell, Byron J. Seaman and the estate of Daryl K. "Doc" Seaman. On November 8, 2010, the Flames family will celebrate the posthumous induction of Doc Seaman to the Hockey Hall of Fame in the builder's category. Doc becomes the second member of the Flames ownership group to be elected to Hall as he joins Harley Hotchkiss who received the honour as member of the Class of 2006. The ownership group jointly controls operations for the Calgary Flames, the Saddledome and the WHL Calgary Hitmen Hockey Club.

On October 9, 1980, in their inaugural game at the Stampede Corral, the Flames battled the Quebec Nordiques to a 5-5 tie. The team played a total of 146 league, playoff and exhibition games at the Corral, losing only 28 regular season and four playoff games in three seasons, before moving across the street into the Saddledome in October 1983.

The Flames formally assumed management of the Saddledome on August 1, 1994, and after extensive renovations, the venue was reopened on October 25, 1995. Today, the Saddledome is internationally recognized as a Calgary landmark.

During their history in Calgary, the Flames have become a premier franchise in the NHL. The pinnacle of the team's history was being crowned Stanley Cup champions for the 1988-89 season. In addition, they have captured two Presidents' Trophies for finishing the regular season with the best overall record (1987-88, 1988-89), three Clarence Campbell Conference titles (1985-86, 1988-89, 2003-04), two Smythe Division playoff championships (1985-86, 1988-89), two Pacific Division titles (1993-94, 1994-95) and a Northwest Division title (2005-06), plus several NHL individual and team honours and numerous attendance records.

HISTORY OF THE FRANCHISE

Prior to the 2010-11 season, the Flames unveiled the jersey that will be worn for the Heritage Classic on February 20, 2011. The special sweater commemorates the 1921 Calgary Tigers, the first major professional hockey team in Calgary.

The Flames' first appearance in the Cup finals was in 1986, and their most recent was in 2004 when they electrified not only the city of Calgary but captivated all of Canada with their inspirational playoff run. The Flames followed up that performance by winning the tough Northwest Division in 2005-06 with 103 points, ranking seventh overall in the NHL and winning the William Jennings Trophy. That same year, goaltender Miikka Kiprusoff was awarded the Vezina Trophy as the NHL's top goaltender. In 2008-09 the Flames made the playoffs for the fifth consecutive season and for the 20th time in the team's history in Calgary.

In 2003-04, the Flames launched an exciting new red jersey as their home sweater, while the traditional whites were worn strictly for road games. The C of Red was revived during the NHL playoffs, and the red Flames jersey became the top-selling jersey launch in NHL history. With the league-wide introduction of the Reebok EDGE Uniform System™ at the start of the 2007-08 season, the Flames jersey was modified to include minor striping changes and shoulder patches featuring the flags of Canada and Alberta. For select games last season, the Flames wore vintage uniforms designed around those worn by the 1989 Stanley Cup championship club. The vintage jersey has been adopted as the team's third jersey and will be worn 12 times during the 2010-11 campaign.

A highlight of the 2010-11 season will be the Flames hosting the Montreal Canadiens in the Heritage Classic at McMahon Stadium on February 20, 2011. For the outdoor game, the Flames will wear a fusion design jersey honouring the history of professional hockey in Calgary. The jersey was inspired by the Calgary Tigers uniform. The Tigers helped form the Western Canada Hockey League in 1921 and became the first major professional team in Calgary. In 1924, after winning the Western Canadian Championships, the Tigers became the first Calgary-based club to compete for the Stanley Cup, losing the best-of-three finals in a sweep to Montreal.

PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Ken King will tell you professional hockey has the best fans of any sport. And he grins every time the C of Red spontaneously rocks the Saddledome to prove it.

President and Chief Executive Officer of the NHL franchise Calgary Flames since summer 2001, King appreciates the value and community pride created through one of only 30 NHL teams in the world. "Making people happy is a dream job," says King who recognizes the tremendous obligation the Flames have to their fans.

Like you, King has an overwhelming fondness for the sport. His aspiration every season is to raise the bar another notch to reward devoted fans with the best possible entertainment package in the NHL. He appreciates the enduring fan loyalty and the excitement surrounding the regular season. He is also proud to have watched fans enjoy heart-wrenching, but electrifying, playoff runs for the Stanley Cup.

King is a strong believer in contributing to the community and he knows incredible achievements can be accomplished when aspiration and determination mix with a visionary approach, meaningful intentions, responsible actions and, above all, consideration for others. His current community involvement spans numerous organizations, including chairman of the TELUS Community Board, past co-chair of REACH (a $300 million medical fundraising initiative), the Calgary Committee to End Homelessness, the Calgary Sport Tourism Authority, the Calgary Exhibition & Stampede, Borden Ladner Gervais CIAU Athlete of the Year Awards Committee and the Rotary Club of Calgary. Previous support and commitment involved the Calgary Prostate Cancer Centre, Calgary Philharmonic Society, No Ka Oi Ranch Foundation and past-chairman of the Calgary Chamber of Commerce.

In 2005, King received an Alberta Centennial Medal for outstanding contributions to the province of Alberta. Other awards include the Queen's Golden Jubilee Medal for community service and the commemorative medal for the 125th Anniversary of the Confederation of Canada. In 1991, he was honoured as B'Nai Brith Man of the Year.

Born and raised in Hanley, Saskatchewan, King launched a 30-year career in the newspaper business that included senior executive positions in Canada's leading newspapers including President and Publisher of the Calgary Sun and Calgary Herald. During his newspaper career in Calgary, King was acknowledged for his innovative marketing, establishment of healthy corporate relationships, spirited community leadership and appreciable growth for the newspapers.

King is an avid but mediocre golfer and like many other Albertans, shares a passion for horses. He often he stays in the saddle, but not always. He and his wife, Marilyn, have two daughters and they are proud grandparents to Amanda's twin boys and Jocelin's baby boy.

King also serves as an Alternate Governor of the NHL and President & Chief Executive Officer of the Western Hockey League's Calgary Hitmen.

Ken
KING

EXECUTIVE VICE-PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Darryl
SUTTER

The 2010-11 NHL season will mark Darryl Sutter's seventh season as the club's General Manager after spending his first two years with the club as both head coach and GM. Under Sutter's guidance, the Flames qualified for the playoffs five of the last six seasons (2004 to 2009). The 2006-07 NHL season was Darryl Sutter's first in the General Manager's office full-time and the Flames' third consecutive playoff appearance with him at the helm. During the 2005-2006 season, Sutter led the Flames to 103 points and the Northwest Division pennant while carrying the dual responsibility of GM/Coach. The 2003-04 campaign saw the Flames capture the Western Conference championship before falling to the Tampa Bay Lightning in game 7 of the Stanley Cup Finals. For Sutter, it was his second trip to the Finals during his coaching career. In his 30 years in the game of hockey as a player and a coach from junior to the NHL, including coaching stops in both the International Hockey League and the NHL, Sutter has reached the post season in all but one season.

Sutter joined the Calgary Flames as head coach on December 28, 2002. On April 11, 2003, he also added the position of General Manager to his title. Darryl has quickly made his mark on the Calgary Flames. He has drafted top prospects, re-signed many of the Flames free agents and made key transactions that were of extreme importance in establishing an identity for the club while leading the Flames to the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

Before joining the Flames, Sutter was the San Jose Sharks' franchise leader in regular season games coached (434) and wins (192). Following the 2001-02 season Sutter became only the second coach in NHL history (New York Islanders - Al Arbour) to improve his team's point total for five consecutive seasons. The Viking, Alberta, native led the Sharks to their first Pacific Division Title while setting new franchise records in wins (44) and points (99) during the 2001-02 campaign.

Prior to the Sharks, Sutter coached Chicago for three years (1992 to 1995) and spent two seasons (1995 to 1997) with the Blackhawks as a consultant for special assignments. As the Blackhawks' head coach, Sutter led his team to the playoffs in all three seasons, including a trip to the Conference Finals in 1995 and a Norris Division title in 1992-93.

Sutter spent the 1987-88 campaign as a Blackhawks Assistant Coach to Bob Murdoch and served as an Associate Coach for Mike Keenan during the 1990-91 and 1991-92 seasons. During his final season as Associate Coach, the Blackhawks advanced to the Stanley Cup Finals before falling to the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Sutter spent two seasons coaching the Blackhawks top development affiliate in the IHL, which played in Saginaw (1988-89) and in Indianapolis (1989-90). Under Sutter's leadership, the Indianapolis Ice stormed through the regular season with 114 points and won the IHL's Turner Cup Championship with a 12-2 run in the playoffs while Sutter earned the League's Commissioner's Trophy as Coach of the Year.

During his eight-year playing career with the Blackhawks from 1979-87, Sutter scored 279 points (161 goals, 118 assists) with 288 penalty minutes in 406 NHL career games. He also posted 43 points (24 goals, 19 assists) in 51 playoff games. He was drafted by Chicago in the ninth round, 179th overall, in the 1978 NHL Entry Draft.

He served as team captain with the Blackhawks for five seasons, beginning in the 1982-83 season through 1986-87 when he was forced to retire prematurely due to a series of injuries. He still holds or shares two Chicago playoff scoring records: most goals in one playoff year with 12 (1984-85) and most overtime goals in one playoff series with two (1984-85 vs. Minnesota).

Before making his impact in the NHL, Sutter began his professional career in Japan in 1978, scoring 41 points (28 goals, 13 assists) in 20 games with Iwakura, finishing as one of the Japan League's top rookies and among the league's leading scorers. After his season in Japan ended, Sutter played 19 games with New Brunswick in the American Hockey League where he scored 13 points (7 goals, 6 assists) and posted three points (1 goal, 2 assists) in five post-season games.

In 1979-80, Sutter captured AHL Rookie of the Year honours (the Dudley "Red" Garrett Memorial Trophy) after tallying 66 points (35 goals, 31 assists) in 69 games.

Darryl is a member of the famous Sutter hockey family, who had six brothers that played in the NHL. Darryl along with brothers Brian, Duane, Brent, Ron and Rich collectively played in over 5,000 NHL games, won six Stanley Cups and scored 2,922 points (1,316 goals, 1,606 assists) and were inducted into the Alberta Sports Hall of Fame in May 2000 under the Lifetime Achievement category. DARYL K. "Doc" SEAMAN - Owner, 1980 to 2009, Inducted 2010

On June 22, 2010, it was announced that Darryl K. "Doc" Seaman, a founding owner of the Calgary Flames, would be inducted into the Builder Category the Hockey Hall of Fame.

"This recognition is a richly deserved honour for a man who knew and appreciated the Canadian value of hockey and the tradition of the game," said Flames President & CEO Ken King. "He was a visionary, our game's biggest fan and passionate about the Calgary Flames. Those who care about hockey owe him a debt of gratitude."

Doc was born in Rouleau, Saskatchewan. He became one of Alberta's most successful oilmen and industrialists through his company, Bow Valley Industries, along with many other ventures. He and his brothers, B.J. and Don Seaman, were among the first wave of adventurous oilmen who pioneered the industry after the Second World War. Doc's war record was itself remarkable; he flew 82 successful combat missions out of North Africa as a sub-hunting pilot, earning a Government of France citation for bravery.

An original Calgary Flames owner, Doc followed the team passionately. Besides bringing the Flames to Calgary, he was a key player in building the Saddledome and bringing the 1988 Olympic Winter Games to Calgary.

A true hockey fan, Doc joined a small group of visionaries to save Canadian hockey from mediocrity at a time when the European game was becoming dominant. Canada's five straight junior hockey gold medal wins have their roots in Project 75, now called the Seaman-Hotchkiss Foundation. He was a strong supporter of Hockey Canada's grass root development programs.

Among his numerous awards and achievements, Doc was the Founding Governor of the Hockey Canada Foundation in 1979; named an Officer, Order of Canada in 1993; elected to the Alberta Sports Hall of Fame in 2007; and received the Alberta Order of Excellence in 2008.

Doc Seaman becomes the second member of the Flames ownership group to be elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame. Harley N. Hotchkiss received the honour as a member of the Class of 2006. Doc passed away on Sunday, January 11, 2009, at age 86.

HARLEY HOTCHKISS - Owner, 1980 to Present, Inducted 2006

On June 28, 2006, Flames co-owner Harley Hotchkiss received the prestigious honour of election to the Hockey Hall of Fame. Harley is the youngest of six children raised on a farm near Tillsonburg, Ontario. He spent his winters on the pond playing hockey, emulating his beloved Toronto Maple Leafs. His idol was Syl Apps. In addition to dreaming of playing in the NHL, the young Hotchkiss also planned a second career in the business world, just in case. The game of hockey was the beneficiary of Harley's practical side as he has used his business success to ensure the growth and development of hockey in Canada.

An original member of the Flames ownership group, Harley Hotchkiss was among this group of local businessmen who introduced the National Hockey League to the City of Calgary in the spring of 1980. The pinnacle of their storied history occurred in 1989 when the Flames captured the Stanley Cup. Of his numerous contributions to the game, his most recent efforts and role on behalf of the NHL were to find a resolution to the NHL labour dispute that forced the cancellation of the 2004-05 season. Harley served six two-year terms as Chairman of the NHL Board of Governors.

Harley has been an avid supporter of Hockey Canada. The Flames make annual financial contributions to Hockey Canada for the continued development and growth of the game. With the investment in bringing the NHL to Calgary, the purchase of the Flames funded the creation of the Centre of Excellence that offered coaching clinics, research in hockey development and sports injuries as well as athletic scholarships to Canadian universities. The introduction of Project 75 contributed over $8 million that is distributed by Hockey Canada to benefit the game throughout the country.

His involvement in hockey reaches from the grassroots to the top branch. As a young college athlete at Michigan State University, Harley was a member of the 1950 Spartans varsity hockey club. He continues to maintain a director's position for the Hockey Hall of Fame. His generosity for other like-minded hockey people is continuously demonstrated as he has made contributions for the construction of hockey arenas throughout Canada including Fox Valley, SK, and Aylmer, ON.

During the summer of 1981, MacInnis was drafted in the first round, 15th overall, by the Flames. Although he played a handful of games for the Flames in both 1981-82 and 1982-83, MacInnis continued his junior career, which included a Memorial Cup championship in 1982.

After spending the early part of the 1983-84 season with the CHL's Colorado Flames, MacInnis became a full-time member of the Calgary Flames blueline later that season, playing 51 games and scoring 11 goals and 34 assists for 45 points.

MacInnis spent 13 seasons with Calgary before moving to St. Louis, but left Alberta having evolved into one of the most effective defencemen in the NHL. While with the Flames, he played in eight All-Star Games, but more importantly, was a key component of a Stanley Cup championship for Calgary in 1989, the first in franchise history. For his contributions in the playoffs that spring, including 7 goals and 24 assists in 22 games, MacInnis was awarded the Conn Smythe Trophy. In a franchise high 803 games played, MacInnis recorded 822 points as a member of the Flames. He also holds the career franchise record for assists (609).

PETER MAHER - Play-by-Play, Inducted 2006

Flames play-by-play man Peter Maher was honoured by the Hockey Hall of Fame as the winner of the 2006 Foster Hewett Memorial Award. Maher has been the voice of the Flames since the '81-82 season. A native of Campbellton, New Brunswick, Maher's success as a hockey play-by-play voice led to his induction into the New Brunswick Sports Hall of Fame in 1996. Maher has also called World Championship games, six NHL All-Star games, and the Stanley Cup Finals in '80, '86, '89 and '04.

The award, named in honour of the late Foster Hewitt is presented in recognition of members of the radio and television industry who have made outstanding contributions to their profession and to the game of hockey.

He joined the St. Louis Blues, eventually earning the role of Assistant General Manager, and helped manoeuvre the Blues into the Stanley Cup Final during the first three years of the franchise's existence. Cliff Fletcher was hired as the inaugural General Manager of the Atlanta Flames. He helped orchestrate the franchise's subsequent move from Atlanta to Calgary in time for the 1980-81 season. During Cliff's regime with the Flames, his teams made the playoffs 16 straight seasons and finished first in their division in 1987-88, 1988-89 and 1989-90. In 1988-89, the Calgary Flames won the Stanley Cup. Lured to Toronto in 1991, Fletcher spent six seasons as Chief Operating Officer, President and General Manager of the Maple Leafs. He was named the 1993 Executive of the Year by The Hockey News. As a team, Toronto improved by an incredible 32 points from 67 points in 1991-92 to a franchise-high 99 points in 1992-93. Although all five Cups ('84, '85, '87, '88, '90) were collected while backstopping the Edmonton Oilers, Fuhr completed his career as a member of the Calgary Flames. On October 22, 1999, the Flames defeated the Florida Panthers and Fuhr attained his 400th career win and became only the sixth goaltender in NHL history to reach that milestone. Amateur and Grassroots Sports

Every year, we support local hockey through donations of $20,000 to each of the local post-secondary men's and women's hockey teams. This is in addition to our support of the Calgary Canucks and Royals, local Junior 'A' teams.

Flames EvenStrength Program

Since its inception in 1998, the EvenStrength program has distributed almost $1 million to more than 2,500 kids in Calgary. The program is designed to alleviate the cost of playing hockey for underprivileged children.

Harley Hotchkiss Scholarship

Named for Calgary Flames owner Harley Hotchkiss, three $1,000 scholarships have been awarded to the University of Calgary, the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology and Mount Royal University each year and will continue to be awarded for the next 10 years.

George Pelawa/Calgary Flames Foundation Educational Fund

In honour of Calgary Flames draft pick George Pelawa, who tragically passed away in 1986, the Foundation donated $15,000 to the scholarship. The scholarship will help young Minnesota athletes pursue their education.

Reading... Give it a Shot!

This will mark the 15th season Flames players have been visiting Grade 4, 5 and 6 students as part of the Reading... Give it a Shot! program. Last season's program included 43 schools and over 1,225 students. With the results of the program improving each year, a reported 96 percent of these students have improved motivation to read. This Calgary Educational Partnership Foundation and Calgary Flames reading incentive program encourages students to read by combining player visits with a bookmark reward system. For every 100 minutes of reading, students are rewarded with a commemorative bookmark featuring Flames players.

Wheelchair Hockey

This will be the 29th year the Calgary Flames have been visiting the Gordon Townsend School in the Alberta Children's Hospital for an afternoon of wheelchair floor hockey. This year, the Flames players will see if they can break a losing 0-27 record.

FLAMES COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Alberta Children's Hospital Christmas Visit

Every December, Calgary Flames players visit the Alberta Children's Hospital during the holiday season to make a special visit to patients while delivering a special toy.

Pond Hockey by ENMAX

This year will be the 12th season that the Calgary Flames will team up with ENMAX and Calgary Hockey Development to match minor hockey players with their NHL heroes. Evenings of Pond Hockey by ENMAX take place on outdoor community rinks in January and February with Flames players and members of Calgary minor hockey.

Flames and NHLOA Zebras Care

The National Hockey League Officials Association (NHLOA) in partnership with the Calgary Flames, KidSport Calgary and Hockey Calgary team up each season in the Zebras Care Program. This is an opportunity for young athletes, selected by KidSport Calgary and Hockey Calgary, to watch a Flames game and meet NHL officials before puck drop. Officials take the time to answer questions and make sure they don't leave empty handed.

Calgary Flames Better Halves Community Incentives

The Calgary Flames players' wives and girlfriends have also embraced the team's commitment to the community by initiating new events and programs and participating in annual fundraisers each season.

Coca-Cola and Flames Ornaments

Each season the Better Halves sell limited edition Coca-Cola Flames Christmas ornaments in support of the Flames Foundation for Life. The ornaments are sold on the concourse each season during select December home games.

Ronald McDonald House

Flames Better Halves and families visit the Ronald McDonald House during the season to cook dinner for the residing families. The Ronald McDonald House is a home-away-from-home for out-of-town families receiving treatment at the Alberta Children's Hospital.

MADE FROM CANADA

This land gives us everything. It gives us amazing lakes, epic mountains and more square feet of awesomeness per person than anywhere else. It also gives us Canadian water, prairie barley and exactly what we need to brew one of the best tasting lagers in the world. So raise a glass to this land.

We wouldn't be Canadian without it. Cheers.
